Fulton Stops the Passing of Trains From Memphis.—New I. C. Telegraph Office Here.—Other Late Railroad News.

Dr. George F. Major, of Fulton, Ky., chairman of the Fulton board of health, was in the city today morning en route to Knoxville.

At the Broadway depot he descended from the train, went up to the dispatcher's office and notified Mayor Kemp, at Memphis, that no more trains would be allowed to pass through Fulton from the south, for the present, at least.

The doctor stated that he did not desire to handicap the railroad company in any way, but that the people must be protected. He left on the train, and will pass through again tonight en route to Fulton.

The information brought in from Memphis this morning by railroad men is not very reassuring. There had thus far been three deaths in Memphis from this disease, and five or six new cases. It was reported that the plague had appeared in a house just across the street from Conductor Tom Ruffa's house.

Passengers who came through last night from Memphis reported people leaving the city by the hundreds. Four hundred, one claimed, left yesterday on one train.

The change of terminal for passenger cars, which throws all the conductors, engineers, firemen, porters, etc., back in Paducah, is a temporary measure, and Engineer W. G. Weldon, of the St. Louis division, stated this to a reporter this morning.

The conductors are vastly pleased at the change, though it should prove only temporary, and several stated in the writer this morning that they would petition the superintendent to make the change permanent.

Mr. J. T. Gortley, special agent of the Illinois Central, with his daughter at Louisville, is in the city today, on business.

Mr. Lem Jorgensen, of Memphis, is in the city this morning en route to Cincinnati.

The car shop employees of the I.
C., owing to a rush of business, are temporarily working nine hours a day.

Traveling Engineer W. G. Weldon, of the St. Louis division, was here last night.

The inspection train of the Illinois Central left Chicago yesterday for a trip over the western division. Superintendent W. J. Haas left for Chicago Sunday to accompany the party.
The trip over the southern division will be delayed on account of yellow fever.

Covington, Tenn., today quarantined against Memphis, and no trains now stop there.

On the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis road everything is clear to Nashville. Every station between Lexington and Memphis, however, thirty-two stations in all, have quar-antined, which practically closes traffic below Memphis.

The Illinois Central, to accommodate its increasing business, will as-soon as the mail arrives, establish a telegraph office and open at the Union Depot in the ticket office.

The mail train is now on its way, and four weeks will be run into the new passenger headquarters. As yet it has not been determined who will be the conductor.

It is supposed that the Union Depot office may get their own office in a suit which will necessitate a change of them to no all the way to the engineer's office after orders were the latter is moved into the old mechanic's office.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

A Most Important Measure For Cities and Towns.

Its Passage Will Place Kentuck-

Paducah and All Our Cities.

The constitutional amendment which is to be voted on at the elec-

by the House and Senate and will be a convention and is therefore by no means a new measure.

One of the amendments
which is to be voted on at the election next Tuesday has been made by the House and Senate and
fore by no means a new measure.

To vote for the amendment of the state of Kentucky and to give to the people the right to elect a city and town in the state, in their local elections, to elect such a city or town for their own local government, as seems best for the interests of their own community.

That is, in short, to elect a city or town in the state, in
government, as seems best for the interests of their own community.

In the short time the "new" constitution has been in operation it has been clearly demonstrated that the people of the state are in a position to elect a city or town in the state, in their local elections, to elect such
a city or town for their own local
government, as seems best for the interests of their own community.

Three Deaths Near Ovan Very Recently.

Death Near Lovelaceville.—Other Mortuary Notes.

There is a small epidemic of diphtheria in the Ovan section of Marshall county.

It has been raging for only a short time, apparently, but there have been three deaths within the past two or three days. The last was that of Lillie May Lamplsey, daughter of J. W. Lamplsey, and wife, aged 3 years, who died last night.

An effort is being made to suppress the reports of an epidemic, but some of the people of the neighborhood are greatly alarmed over it. It is not known how many more cases there are.

Mrs. Brewer Hook, aged 40, died yesterday at her home near Lovelace-ville, of consumption, after a long illness.

The deceased leaves a husband and four children, four boys and one girl.

BIG CROWDS.

Capt. Farley Has Large and Enthusiastic Audiences.

But Lang Won't Meet Him and the Democrats Have No Defender.

Large and enthusiastic audiences came to greet Capt. Farley in his series of speakings. The continued absence of Mr. Lang and his refusal to meet Capt. Farley and to defend the Democratic administration, has been one of the jokes of the campaign. A Democrat afraid to speak in favor of Lang is losing him votes every day.

There will be no speaking tonight, but tomorrow night Capt. Farley will speak at John Rogers and Thayer night at Herbs' grocery.

If you have not heard Farley come out and hear him this week.

CRAP SHOOTERS.

Several Fined This Morning In the Police Court.

Other Business Before Judge Sanders This Morning.

The housebreaking case against R. M. Dennis and J. W. Solomon was continued until tomorrow, and the defendants were recognized in the sum of $200 for their appearance.

Dora Clark, for using insulting language was fined $1 and costs.

The case against Henry Small, colored, charged with slapping his sister, was dismissed, as his intentions were good when he administered the slapping.

Henry Matthews, Will Childers, Bud Dobson, Chas. Cones and Lou's Willis were charged with a rap shooting. Each was fined $20 and costs.

Robert Matthews, who was accused of slapping his sister, was arrested yesterday afternoon for being drunk and disorderly. She had a nine-year-old boy with her, and had to be taken to the city hall in a wagon, giving a free exhibition all the way down to the district of all who saw her. Officer Sutcliffe states that she went to her mother's below the old Bar-locks and found a bottle of whiskey there, getting both herself and mother drunk. The case was dismissed.

DON GILBERTO RETIRES.

The New Richmond May Pa-into New Hands.

Don Gilberto yesterday retired from the property of the New Richmond hotel and bar, and had now under the management of Mr. W. W. Powell.

The retiring proprietor has not yet decided to what business he will engage. It is said that Mr. Charles Beauchamp, formerly of the city, but now proprietor of a hotel in Camden, Ark., will become proprietor of the hotel in a short time.

Mr. Dave Moran, of Nashville, is in the city.

CAPT. JOHN MILLIGAN.

The Story of the Tragic Death of a Southern Sympathizer Who Heard Grant's Famous Proclamation.

He Was Killed Near Mayfield In 1863.—He Had Been Once Postmaster and Once County Judge.

Capt. Joe Fowler, in his reminis-cences of early Paducah, remembers Grant's proclamation, read on Sept.
6, 1862, from the veranda of the present hotel. Only two men can remember heard the proclamation, and these were Capt. John Milligan, now dead, and Capt. Joe Fowler himself. This leaves but one living man who heard Grant's proclamation—Capt. Joe Fowler.

Capt. Milligan, however, was not killed while battling for the cause that was afterwards lost, as a contemporary states. He was killed near Mayfield, and his name recalls a tragedy of the war times that is connected strongly with the life of the late Mr. M. M. Connor.

Capt. John Milligan, who was a one time postmaster of Paducah, was father of Mr. John F. Milligan, now one of the most prominent and wealthy residents of St. Louis, where his paternal residence is one of the finest in the country.

Capt. Milligan was killed in '62 when the Federal troops invaded Paducah, and the Confederate force were in camp near Mayfield. The latter was known as camp B. and guard. The soldiers frequently met half way and skirmished, but there were no serious engagements.

It was in the summer of '62 that the Confederate supplies ran low, and a detachment of soldiers was sent to a small grocery store in Mayfield kept by the late M. M. Connor and his brother, Jim Connor. The soldiers selected a large quantity of goods and tendered in payment about $75 in Tennessee money. The Connor boys were staunch Union sympatizers, however, and refused to accept the money, claiming it was worthless.

The soldiers having no time to bargain, carried the goods off, and captured the proprietors that whenever they wanted their money, they could get it at camp Beauregard by asking for it.

Shortly afterwards Capt. John Milligan, who was a strong Southern sympathizer, and a refugee from the Federal forces in Paducah, dropped in to see the store and was told by the Connor boys about the action of the Southern soldiers. He volunteered to go over to the camp and acquaint the commander himself with the facts, and bring back the money. When he did so the officer very readily went through camp and collected gold and silver enough to liquidate the debt, giving it to Capt. Milligan to carry to the grocers.

It was never known how or why it happened, but it is said that he was shot while en route with the money, in front of the grocery, from the door jam, and killed. Some say a quarrel ensued and he was killed in the melee, but at any rate he was killed by a lead of buckshot that penetrated his breast.

When the news of the killing reached camp, Jim Connor, one of the brothers, claimed he did not do the shooting, and the other one had in the meantime disappeared. Jim Connor, however, was taken off on a horse, in charge of a couple of Confederate soldiers, one of whom was L. M. Milligan, a brother of the murdered man. They took him to Po-lono, as the saying was, which meant he was killed. At any rate he was "lost," and never reached camp.
It was subsequently told for one that L. M. Milligan, the brother of the slain, was killed by killing his murderer as he rode towards camp.

Mr. M. M. Connor, one of the brothers, who died only a short time ago while visiting in Mayfield, never revealed the secret of who killed Capt. Milligan, and for why it was done. It was never so far as can be learned, been mentioned or discussed whether Capt. Milligan was purposely killed or killed through mistake.

Capt. Milligan, in addition to having been postmaster of Paducah, was at one time judge of the McCracken county court.

Society & Gossip.

The brides this season are almost as numerous as the pebbles on the beach.

A wedding of great interest in Paducah society is that of Miss Virginia Greer and Mr. Chas. M. Mosquito. The ceremony will take place this evening at the First Christian church. Rev. W. H. Pickens officiating. The groom is the popular young druggist, while the bride is widely known and deeply popular in society circles.

The Matinee Club will be entertained this afternoon by Miss Janie Rivers. With Miss Rivers as hostess there is no doubt of the success of the entertainment.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. James Campbell will entertain the Magazine club.

Mrs. I. D. Wilcox entertains the Cigar Club tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon in honor of her visitor Miss La Rue. The next regular meeting of this popular club will be held with Miss Emma McKnight in Arcadia next Wednesday.

The recent given Monday evening at the Christian church by Mrs. Haskell was a rare treat to the literary people of the city. "Les Miserables" was the subject of the reading, and a more pleasing subject or entertainer would have been hard to select.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith, of Madison, Ind., arrived in the city Monday afternoon and are the guests of Mrs. Jim Clements.

Miss Julia Fort, sister of Dr. Fort, is to be the guest of Mrs. Beauchamp on Broadway in November.

Miss Ella Hart left for Louisville Monday morning to join her mother, Mrs. J. Hart.

Mr. Gilbert McCoy and his charming sister, Miss Mary, of Louisville, spent yesterday in our city.

Miss Elizabeth Simon leaves next week for Evansville for a visit to friends.

Mr. H. S. Bradley left Monday for Nashville on business.

Miss Cherry Morton is home from an extended visit to North Carolina.

Mr. Frank Servito, after a visit to his mother, Mrs. Nash, leaves for St. Louis, her home, this week.

Mr. John VanCleave left Sunday for Mayfield and other points.

Mrs. James Gary leaves today for Nashville to visit the Centennial.

Miss Humble is among the popular visitors in the city, the guest of Mrs. O. L. Gregory.

Miss Cary is in the city this week to visit her sister, Mrs. Pritchard.

Miss Gertrude Sanders will arrive in the city from Louisville in a few days.

Miss Janette Campbell was the recipient of many social favors while visiting in Hopkinsville.

Capt. Geo. O. Hart has lately returned from a long trip to New York. He relates a very interesting story about his good fortune in meeting the young Spanish girl, Evangelina Casanova, who was on her way to Washington with Mr. Carl Dwyer, correspondent of the New York "Journal," and his wife, where she will receive a thorough education at the "Journal's" expense. Captain Hart describes her as being a petite brunette, vivacious, and as beautiful as the tropical plants that grow in far away Cuba.

A young gentleman residing in the suburbs had announced one day that when first came he expected to marry himself a wife. Now it seems to us that we have had several light frosts but no wedding yet. He can only regain his faithful reputation by marrying before it snows. (That's snow joke.)

St. Louis seems to have a unusual influence on the heads of our college young men. One upon a time, not a year ago, one of the bright young men in the city was a friend of his name and in an unguarded moment decided to make a visit to a pretty blonde that had visited here and was much admired not only by the young men in question but by all. It seems that only his heart went with him and his head "went home." Any how it isn't the most pleasant thing in the world when you go over to many miles to see your sweetheart and find that you have forgotten her address. But what could the poor man do? Only fold his tent like the Arab and as quietly as he could.

For proof of the above see the young man that has wandered from the social world.

3 Strong Points In Favor of Violet Cream

1. The exquisite odor of the violet, with which it is perfumed.

2. The entire absence of stickiness and grease, so common in similar preparations.

3. Owing to the combination of two antiseptics its power as a healing agent is guaranteed to be superior to all other remedies.

Sanitary Inspectors to Go.

The Board of Health met yesterday afternoon, and as forecast in the Star, decided to dispense with the sanitary officers after this week. No action was taken relative to the yellow fever scare, as it is wholly unnecessary to become alarmed.

POPULATION INCREASING. There will soon be a rush for little chairs, baby shoes, rattles, rubber dolls, and other nursery equipments, for the doctors report a rapid increase in the population. One doctor escorted into the busy world last week six infants, and another three or four. A doctor reports new arrivals with "outstanding good prospects," hence about Christmas the little ones will be big enough to begin playing with BOTH, BOTH GAYLORS. A prominent citizen and a prominent doctor met yesterday at Fort and Broadway. The shock hands, but the big man was noticed to extend his left hand instead of the right.

"Gardner me, Doctor," he said with a knowing little smile, "that reminds me of the time I used to see you. Every time I meet a doctor I remember your medicine." He drew out a pill box and took a couple with as much grace and abandon as if they had been nothing.

He then exhibited his right hand, upon which there was a regular old-fashioned bull. "What's the best thing for it, Doctor?" he quizzed.

"I'll bet every man, woman and child in town has told me some remedy, and they're every one different."

"I don't know what the best thing for it is," returned the doctor with a twinkle, "but I know the best place for it is on somebody else."

They both laughed. "They say, though, that every one is worth $5 to a man," continued the doctor.

"We'll like mighty well to get my chips cashed and jump the game," replied the other, as he walked off holding his right hand away, so no reckless pedestrian could touch it.

"Poor fellow," sympathized the doctor, "he's had sixteen in succession, and still they come!"

"You are because in one day with a two-eyeball, and for a greeting, and invited me out to take one."

"I'm Jones is dead," he began as he walked off, "I'm Jones is dead."

"Yes, he died last night," returned the other. "I've come in for one of them."

"I sold him the corn and he said 'I'm Jones is dead' to me. He was the worst that ever happened."

It is my specialty to fit glasses in such a manner that they relieve the eyestrain perfectly; fitting the eye with spectacles that you can see with ease and comfort, thus preserving the eye. In examining the eye only the latest and most improved methods and instruments are used.

Physicians especially are invited to call and investigate my method of correcting errors of refraction. Many cases of headache, neuralgia, vertigo, nervous prostration and the seeming stupidity of children are often due to defective vision caused by an abnormal curvature of the cornea or crystalline lens, or to an irregularity of the refracting media of the eye, and are relieved at once upon the application of the proper glasses. Ninety per cent. of people over forty years of age need glasses, and fifty-five per cent. of the ninety need them for distance.

Glasses are not always given to improve eyesight, but to relieve undue strain; in short to assist nature. Thousands of eyes are ruined yearly. Seven persons out of ten have neither eyes aike, and one out of twenty are nearsighted; hence the necessity of testing each eye separately. Special attention is given to any inequality of the eyes as it exists between the refraction of the eye.

Optical science has made rapid advances within the last few years, the correct adaptation of spectacles has become a distinct profession. The optician thoroughly understands his business realizes fully that in adjusting glasses for his customers he is treating with a most delicate and precious organ, where the slightest error may result seriously, while if he does his work well, he not only gives comfort and ease to his patients, but in many instances restores the sight.

Special care should be taken in selecting the first pair of spectacles, nor should it be attempted without the aid of a responsible optician. It is most important that the lenses should be accurately centered and of the quality, and the frames so made that the wearer looks directly through the center. Glasses nicely fitted to the face become an ornament as well as a necessity.

Fitting children with spectacles is a specialty.

Parents, do not neglect your children's eyes.

Difficult cases solicited.

All questions in regard to the eyes cheerfully answered.
